This should be it for today. There are many more documents that are to come.

Please look up "Silver Springs" written by Rachel Carson. Very critical to our situation and Bifenthrin.

Thanks,

Also, [REDACTED] Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) was in her chair at her cubicle when the applicator asked her to slide back while they sprayed the floor and cubicle walls around the bottom of her desk. She was in a dress and barefooted and slid right back into the desk area. She was told by her manager (Northrop Grumman) that the herbicides were green and not harmful, so she did not worry. Also, I have included the email from my Manager (State of Wyoming LTC) office that said they never sprayed in our suite 259B and that it was again and herbicide and was green (safe). We also have an email that Northrop Grumman managers email the State that they should get something in writing from OSHA that says the sprays were "safe" to calm down the employees.

Thanks,

Thanks so much. I had another inspector reviewing stuff with me today. There are several applications... after each application, did employees return to their desks before the pesticide had dried?

Hey Sherrie,

There is many more pages to the Agriculture inspection that we sent you today. We also included letters that were sent to Prest-X and reported statements from the Presto-X employee as well as Mr. Higgins (the manager) of Presto-X. We mailed it second day mail, so you should have it by the time you get back.

Thank you again,

Summary of September 2nd short meeting

A short meeting was called the afternoon of September 2nd as rumors were going around about the bug spraying that occurred in the CSC. I clarified in the meeting what I knew from upper management regarding the spraying. I have been notified of the following and shared with the staff:

- Spraying occurred on 3 separate occasions – twice in July and the third time in early August. The spraying occurred in 259D the first two times and the third time was in 259D and the reception area of 259C. Only spraying around the areas occurred and no bug bombs were set off.
- Bed bugs were not found the last two times of spraying, only beetles were found.
- The pesticide company utilized green products each time.
- No spraying occurred in 259A, 259B or 210.
- OSHA has been here twice and cleared the area both times.
- The last time OSHA was here they met with the pesticide company, Jan and others and cleared the area.
